

DESIGNED FOR TOUGH CONDITIONS

Designed for tough conditions and built for long-term performance in the outdoor environments your cylinders face every day.

Worthington's two-coat, zinc-rich primer provides a corrosion-resistant foundation that delivers up to 7x greater protection* against rust in tough outdoor conditions.

Propane cylinders face constant wear, weather and handling. Long-term durability starts with the right primer. Here's how Worthington's zinc-rich primer helps protect your investment:

- Protects propane cylinders from rust and corrosion
- Withstands harsh outdoor environments
- Reduces maintenance costs
- Extends tank service life
